Democrat and Republican Chiefs Tread Separate Paths Toward Common Objective

COMMITTEES CLASH

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—Senate Democratic and Republican leaders tread separate paths today toward the common objective of tightening up home front security against communist and subversive activity.

Their courses were officially charted in two policy committee meetings yesterday. A head-on clash on the floor was in prospect. While this maneuvering was going on, the senate showed a complete readiness to vote tougher home defense controls once agreement is reached on their form. Without a dissent it passed three stiff internal security measures, including one which would permit the government to bar from the United States any suspected subversive alien. Not even top-drawers diplomats, now untouchable under immigration laws, would be exempt.

At the core of the inter-party dispute over new security measures is a bill sponsored by Senators Mundt (R-SD), Ferguson (R-Mich) and Johnson (D-SC) which the Republicans want approved. It would require that communist front organizations register with the government, along with individuals who conspire to set up in this country a foreign-controlled dictatorship.

Democrats want to sidetrack that bill in favor of a milder one now being drawn up by justice department and other administration officials along the lines of a message President Truman sent to congress Tuesday.

Mr. Truman asked for registration of foreign trained spies and saboteurs, extension of the period in which acts of peace time espionage may be prosecuted, and broader authority to write security regulations for defense areas.

The president said the Mundt-Ferguson-Johnson bill goes further than necessary and might do more harm than good.

"While the two senate policy committees marked off their battle lines, the house un-American Activities Committee agreed to recommend subversive legislation stronger than that sought by the president."

Murray Wins Dem Seat In Oklahoma

Oklahoma City, Aug. 10.—(P)—Johnston Murray emerged as Oklahoma's Democratic nominee for governor today as a vicious battle of the ballots came to a close.

A recount of the state's 77 counties took only 47 votes away from Murray's 1,009 vote margin over William O. Coe gained in the July 25 runoff primary.

This left Murray with 962 votes to spare. The state election board will meet Saturday morning to certify the recount and issue Murray his certificate of nomination.

Stepped-Up Training Program For Co. I Launched With Three Drills a Week

Company I is undergoing a stepped-up training program in anticipation of return to active duty in September with a three-drill-a-week program at the State Armory in Hickory street.

The drills last for two hours, starting at 7:30 p. m.

Until Company I is actually inducted into Federal service, the men will report to the Armory for drills, but after the induction date, it is expected that out-of-town members will be required to sleep at the Armory while local men will be permitted to be at their homes overnight. However, all will be required to be on hand for reveille except on Sundays.

Tentative dates call for the unit to be inducted on or about September 7, and arrive at Camp Atterbury, Ind., not later than September 14.

The unit now numbers approximately 80 men, and additional enlistments are being accepted. The unit is under the command of First Lt. Robert Greer.

Discretionary Control Powers Over Wages, Prices, Rationing And Credit Is Provided In Bill

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—President Truman said today he does not contemplate a revival of the World War II OPA. Mr. Truman told his news conference that old-line federal agencies will handle any economic and other emergency controls which may be necessary as a result of the Korean crisis.

He said, too, that all-out mobilization is not yet in sight.

The president said he expects to leave to the senate and house the exact terms of an economic controls bill now nearing a decision on Capitol Hill.

Mr. Truman made clear that he would like discretionary power to fix prices and wages but that he still feels his original modified recommendations should not be delayed by debate over stronger executive weapons.

The house was on the point of passing a bill giving him discretionary authority much along the lines he asked—but with some additions.

Still to be decided was how much authority Mr. Truman should have to restrict credit and control commodity market speculation.

The house was driving toward a vote today on the controls bill. Republicans also have pending strongly-backed amendments to limit real estate credit curbs to the financing of new construction, and to deny to the president the power to control commodity market speculation. Most Democrats are against the GOP amendments.

Except for the extent of credit provisions still to be decided, the bill now follows the general lines of legislation the president has said he would accept, even though it gives him more power than he originally sought.

Its more controversial wage and price control provisions were approved overwhelmingly after Democrats and Republicans worked out a compromise to break a week-old house stalemate.

All the powers proposed for the president would be discretionary—he could use them or not use them as he saw fit to cope with war-born inflationary trends.

He could:

1. Order rationing of almost anything at any time.

2. Channel scarce materials into essential fields and order top priority for defense production.

3. Requisition for the government materials, supplies, equipment, or facilities needed for national defense. Owners would be entitled to just compensation and would have first choice on regain.

Franklin, Aug. 10.—(P)—An auto collision on storm swept Route 8 near Franklin last night killed a Grove City couple and injured six other persons.

The victims were Tilden McKay, 73, and his wife, Nellie, about the same age.

Two of the six persons in Franklin Hospital are in critical condition. They are Gertrude Amberson, 54, and Mrs. Desie Sutherland, about 55, both of Grove City.

Miss Amberson has internal injuries, a possible broken shoulder and fractured pelvis. Mrs. Sutherland is suffering from severe shock and back injuries.

Others in the hospital, all in fair condition, are: Winifred Amberson, 66, Grove City; back injuries; Robert Logan, 21, Titusville, possible skull fracture, scalp lacerations and shock; Wells Stockwell, 21, also of Titusville, badly broken right arm; Mrs. Florence Callahan, 53, Grove City, broken left leg.

State police Private Al Kwiatek gave this version: "The McKay car was traveling south when it apparently slipped off the highway, came back and skidded into the path of the north-bound machine occupied by the Titusville residents."

NEW CASTLE FIRE
New Castle, Aug. 10.—(P)—Fire did an estimated $5,000 damage in the warehouse of the New Castle Lumber Company yesterday. Firemen worked 90 minutes to bring the flames under control. They said the blaze apparently started from spontaneous combustion.

"House Cleaning" Of Communists In Federal Government Urged By Legion

Philadelphia, Aug. 10.—(P)—Pennsylvania American Legion members were urged today to demand a "house cleaning" of Communists in the federal government as a major step toward national security.

Addressing the 32nd annual convention of the Legion's Pennsylvania Department, Lt. Gov. Daniel B. Strickler said: "The Legion should insist that the representatives in government take a definite stand to clean house first in our nation's setup so as not to even risk any danger in present or future conflicts by any kind of inefficiency undermining or aiding the enemy that may be caused by un-American officials."

Strickler, who is also commanding general of the 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard, said the 28th "is ready for whatever mission is assigned to us." The Division has been ordered to report for active duty within a few weeks.

In another address, U. S. Senator Francis J. Myers (D-Pa.), declared the Communist aggression in Korea "has united and strengthened the free world enormously."

Myers told the Legionnaires in a prepared speech that U. S. mobilization may appear to be more extensive than actually needed to cleanup the Korean situation, but insisted it is necessary.

Another scheduled speaker on today's program at Convention Hall was Governor James H. Duff, the Republican nominee to replace Senator Myers' bid for reelection to the senate in November.

More than 7,000 members of the Legion, its auxiliary organization and convention visitors were on hand for the first business session of the convention that winds up Saturday afternoon in the traditional Legion parade.

Members of the Legion's fun-making 40 at 8 society scheduled a preview of that parade with their annual march tonight through the downtown district.

The convention continues through Saturday.

Tomorrow night, bugle and drum corps will compete for the state title at Municipal Stadium.

Fire Department Demonstration Interests Large Crowd

A crowd of several hundred persons was on hand near War Memorial Field last night to watch Warren borough firemen demonstrate various uses for the high pressure and foam truck, a pump, and the big aerial ladder truck.

The demonstration was arranged by the borough council's Fire Committee, chairmanned by Wayne Palinter, as a climax to an intensive training program that has been under way for the past several months.

The demonstration got under way with the firemen showing various types of hose hook-ups with the high pressure and pump trucks. Then the firefighters ignited gasoline and oil fires (see photo above) and used various pieces of equipment in moving in close to the roaring flames and quickly extinguishing the blazes.

Most spectacular phase of the demonstration was the use of a Javy portable fire escape, and a life belt in simulating rescue from the roof of the Nelson and Ellberg building. The big aerial ladder also was used to gain access to the roof of the high building, and also to demonstrate lifting a hose and nozzle high into the air, a maneuver that is highly useful in battling flames on roofs and upper floors of buildings.

Following the demonstration, members of borough council were guests of the Fire Committee at a spaghetti dinner, prepared and served by the firemen, at the Central Fire Station.

Several New Instructors Are Added To Teaching Staff For the Coming Term

Because of the opening of kindergartens, creation of new positions, and the resignation of several teachers, the 1950-51 teaching staff of Warren borough schools will include ten new members.

Unless changes have to be made, Mrs. T. H. Conway will teach kindergarten at East and McClintock, Mrs. Helen Launstein in Johnson and Home street, and Jane G. Masters in South and Lacy schools. Mrs. Conway and Mrs. Launstein are well known in Warren, while Miss Masters has been teaching in Custer City a number of years. She is a graduate of the University of Chicago and has taken additional work at Duke, Ohio State, and Penn State. A resident of Smethport, she came from Omaha, Neb., where she was graduated from high school.

The transfer of Joseph Spence to the position of art supervisor in the elementary schools has left his post of art instructor at Beaty Junior High School open and this will be filled by James Hill, Jr., of Indiana, Pa. Mr. Hill is a 1950 graduate of Indiana State Teachers College, in the art curriculum.

Other changes at Beaty will be the replacing of Richard Andersen and Mrs. Mabel Hays Barrett by Marcia Johnson, an alumna of Warren High School and Allegheny College, and William Oelwager, Greensburg, graduate of Grove City College.

In Warren High, two changes are listed to take place in the staff, with Mary Spleen, a graduate of Ridgway High School and Clarion State Teachers College, to have charge of the library for the coming year, and Marie Weissenfuh, or Warren and a Mansfield graduate, taking Mrs. Eleanor Peter, Lesser's place as home economics director.

Warren is fortunate in obtaining Mrs. Olga Kyofski, of Sabinsville, for the position of teaching boys and girls needing special instruction. Mrs. Kyofski is an experienced instructor, having taught eight years before specializing in this type of work and is receiving her degree in elementary education from the Pennsylvania State College this summer in this field.

Frederick Brown, of Williamsport, Paul Mutzabaugh, of Bradford, and Phyllis Stewart, of Oil City will complete the faculty of the elementary schools.

Mr. Brown has been holding a position in the elementary schools of Williamsport, is a graduate of the high school in that place, and has a bachelor's degree from Lock Haven State Teachers College and master's from Columbia University. An Altoona High graduate, Mr. Mutzabaugh attended Pennsylvania State College and recently qualified for teaching in the elementary grades at Clarion State Teachers College. Miss Stewart, a recent graduate of Clarion State Teachers College, received her high school training at Cranberry Township High.

Government Reports a Slight Overall Drop In Food Prices Last Half of July

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—The government reported today a slight overall drop in retail food prices during the last half of July. The report by the Bureau of Labor Statistics was based on a special survey of 25 foods in 13 large cities, as of July 31. The spot study was made because of congressional action on possible price controls in view of the Korean crisis.

BLS Commissioner Ewan Clague reported to Secretary of Labor Tomlin that although prices of 18 of the foods went up, the rises were more than offset by "sharp seasonal declines in retail prices for fresh vegetables and lower prices for fresh pork."

He estimated retail prices on all foods to be about two-tenths of one per cent lower than on July 15.

He also estimated the retail food price index at 210.2 per cent of the 1935-1939 average. This was still 2.7 per cent above the index for June 15, and three per cent below the record of July 1948.

Clague said that in all 13 cities included in the special survey housewives were paying more on July 31 than on July 15 for bread, eggs, hamburger, bacon, coffee, and sugar. Average prices rose during the two weeks in seven cities: Buffalo, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Richmond, San Francisco, and Washington.

But lower food prices in the other six cities more than offset the increases in the seven cities. The six cities where declines occurred in food prices were Pittsburgh (where they sank 2.5 per cent), Boston, Chicago, Detroit, New York and St. Louis.

Main American Plane Base Is Imperilled By Erupting Enemy Attacks On Coast Near Pohang

By The Associated Press
Southern Front: Americans snap trap at least 1,000 Red troops, push southern offensive within five miles of Chinju, with patrols two miles from Red base.

Central Front: First Cavalry Division wipes out Communist bridgehead across Nakdong river; 24th Division fights new Red offensive thrusts in bridgehead area; South Koreans to the north eliminate another enemy foothold across stream.

Northern Front: Communists develop serious threat in push south from Yongdok and from captured mountain town only nine miles from Pohang, U. S. air-base on east coast. Vanguard only 5 1/2 miles from main U. S. fighter air strip.

Air War: Seventy B-29 superforts blast Wonsan oil and rail center with 625 tons of bombs in heaviest strike of the war against strategic targets in North Korea.

Washington: House committee calls in Ret. Gen. Carl Spaatz to examine effects of strategic bombing in Korean war.

Lake Success: Security Council members ready informal meeting with the president for August, Soviet delegate Jakob A. Malik, in effort to break procedure deadlock and end his one-man filibuster on Korea question.

Tokyo, Aug. 10.—U. S. forces surged ahead 13 miles today and snapped shut an armored trap around 1,000 North Koreans on the Chinju front in deep South Korea.

But to the north erupting Red attacks made a new threat against Taegu and imperilled a main American fighter plane base on the Korean east coast near Pohang port.

The southern gains were the biggest of the war for the Americans. Two advancing combat teams in force were almost on the outskirts of Chinju, main Red base, in the south.

U. S. Eighth Army leaders took hasty steps to protect the fighter plane base. It is eight miles southeast of Pohang on the Sea of Japan 55 miles north of Pusan.

Two Red forces rolled back crumpling South Korean forces there. AP correspondent Hal Boyle at Pohang said the Reds were protected from American naval guns by lofty mountains in some of Korea's most rugged country.

The Pohang-bound Communists, hammered down from Yongdok, which they retook Thursday, and drove on four miles to the south.

The main threat to the fighter base came from another Red force rolling toward it from the mountain village of Kigye, eight miles northwest of Pohang. A North patrol of 30 men commanded the Yongchon-Pohang supply road with machineguns.

Four U. S. Mustang fighters were shot down by ground fire after taking off to machinegun the invaders. One pilot was lost and three were rescued, Boyle reported.

Twenty-nine miles southeast of Taegu, the main U. S. base on the central front, a battalion of Reds held off elements of the U. S. 24th and Second Divisions on the banks of the Nakdong river.

American planes, including 70 B-29's from Japan and Okinawa, plastered the North Koreans. The Air Force said the B-29's badly crippled northern rail lines with the biggest raid of the war on Wonsan, east coast rail center north of the 38th parallel. The big planes caught the 25 track-wide rail yard jammed with traffic, ammunition, fuel, food and other supplies.

Russia Accused By Chief Executive Of Filibustering In the United Nations

Washington, Aug. 10.—(P)—President Truman accused Soviet Russia today of filibustering in the United Nations Security Council. He said the Russians were filibustering, no doubt about it.

In a news conference discussion Mr. Truman lauded Warren Austin, U. S. representative on the Council, for doing what he said was a good job.

Once again the president rejected the idea of a meeting with Premier Stalin and other heads of state. But he said he would decide later, if such a suggestion were made, on whether there should be a meeting of high level leaders of the United Nations after settlement of the Korean crisis.

In hitting at Russia filibustering, Mr. Truman obviously was referring obstructionist tactics by the council president and chief Soviet delegate, Jacob Malik.

Malik has been using council meetings for oratorical propaganda, blasts to such an extent (Turn to Page Twelve)

Mother of Clearfield Brothers Missing In Action Has Firm Faith In Prayers

Clearfield, Aug. 10.—(P)—Mrs. Walter A. Heichel of nearby Croft went about her household duties resolutely today—convinced her prayers will be answered for the safe return of her two sons who are missing in Korea.

"I won't give up," Mrs. Heichel said shortly after the latest Army casualty lists reported Pfc George D. Heichel, 19, and his brother, Pfc. Homer A. Heichel, 18, missing. She added: "I can't give up. My boys will come out of this, I'm sure."

Mrs. Heichel, also the mother of an eight-year old daughter, related how her sons had enlisted in the Army together on December 26, 1948.

"They did everything together," she declared. "They were choir boys together and they joined the Boy Scouts together."

"I didn't really like to see them go into the Army but they said 'We'll have to go sometime so I guess we'll go now.'"

The brothers, who went overseas last year, have been home on furlough only once. Their mother said she last heard from Homer on June 27 and from George on July 8. The letter from George was unfinished and was mailed by a Japanese friend who included a note to Mrs. Heichel.

Mrs. Heichel said she wasn't certain of the exact army duties of her sons but declared she believed George was a telephone operator and Homer a chief dispatcher in an office.

She added the first intimation that the brothers were together in Korea was when she received the official notification they are missing in action. She declared: "I've prayed for them every night since they were in the Army and I'm keeping right on. I just know that my boys will come back to me."

The Heichel family moved to Clearfield county last May. For seven years prior to that they lived in Pine Grove Mills near State College.

SOUTH PENN INCOME
The South Penn Oil Company reported today its net income for the first half of 1950 was more than a half million dollars higher than for the same period in 1949. And, added an official statement, "the outlook for the company is favorable. South Penn earnings for the first six months of 1950 were $3,240,784, equal to $1.86 a share, compared with $2,714,423 or $1.58 a share, for the 1949 half-year. Crude oil production averaged 10,477 barrels a day, compared with 10,102 barrels in the first half of last year. Hereafter South Penn earnings reports will include all subsidiaries which the company owns more than 50 per cent. On that basis, South Penn's net income for the first half of 1950 was $3,649,921, or $2.09 a share. Comparable figures for 1949 are not available.

Way Is Cleared By State To Rebuild The Columbus Dam

Harrisburg, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The commonwealth cleared the way today for a project to rebuild a dam across Brokenstraw creek, Warren county.

The Columbus Township Municipal authority was authorized to proceed with the dam after the state water power and resources board approved the project late yesterday.

The Authority plans a 17-foot high recreation lake to replace a dam washed out by floods in 1947. It would cover 50 acres in the Brokenstraw creek area near Corry.

Several nearby residents protested the authority's plans at a board hearing here in June. They claimed the Authority would not maintain flood gates on the dam, although Authority spokesmen said they would do so. The Authority also offered to be responsible for any damage suffered to landowners because of maintenance failure.

The board's decision did not elaborate on the approval. But M. F. Draemel, state forests and waters secretary and board chairman, said previously the agency's powers were limited to overseeing the type of construction put into the dam, use of the dam as to recreational or industrial purposes and safety precautions involved in building such a lake.

Boat Owners On Chautauqua Lake Are Given Hearing

Mayville—Opposition to minimum age and speed limits for the operation of power boats, as proposed by the Chautauqua Lake Navigation Commission, occupied top attention of about 75 persons attending the public hearing in the court house.

Outlawing of sirens also drew fire from boat owners and dealers alike. The question of enforcing rules by the five-man commission, recently authorized by the New York State Navigation Law, was raised by Max Lear, of Magnolia.

During the discussion of minimum age he remarked, "with all these rules and regulations we're catching up with a little bit of Washington here."

Al Dombrowski, representing the Chautauqua Lake Marine Works stated that "if all the rules suggested were put into operation and enforced, all of the reasons for coming to Chautauqua Lake would be removed." His comment came during the discussion of the suggested eight mile-per-hour speed limit within 300 feet of trollers and beaches and remarked that it would be impossible to get into his place at Prendergast Creek if he had to stay 300 feet away from fishermen. At lower speeds Dombrowski said, he would become stalled in the weeds.

Larry Dawson of the Chautauqua Lake Yacht Club asked modifications of rulings requiring sailboats to yield to fishermen. He said it was not only impractical but impossible.

Roger Lane, commission secretary, replied that the clause was designed to prevent sailboats from tacking back and forth, cutting trollers' lines.

A. L. Bottini, president of the Chautauqua Lake Regions, Inc., most severe critic of the rules as proposed by the commission, pleaded for the use of sirens for calling for help in emergency.

Melvin Swanson of Jamestown hammered away at the eight mile per hour restriction contending that the reckless navigation clause would take care of speeding offenders.

Informative Talk On Bombs Is Given At Lions Meeting

Donald Dalrymple, of the National Forge Company of Irvine, addressed the local Lions Club at its regular noon meeting on Tuesday. Mr. Dalrymple gave a very interesting and informative talk on the atom and hydrogen bombs.

He traced the history of the atom and its beginning was actually in 1895 when the X-ray was discovered. Radio activity of uranium was discovered in 1896, and later radium by the Curies in Paris, France. The Geiger Counter for measuring radio activity was developed in 1908 and the first atom was smashed by Ruth-erford in 1907. Mr. Dalrymple was very interesting and enlightening, and well informed on his subject. He has stated there is very little chance for a gigantic chain reaction to be set off over an area greater than possibly 4 miles when the hydrogen bomb is exploded. The explosion of the hydrogen bomb will be accomplished by the initial explosion of an atom bomb. Actually 26 million degrees of heat is needed to explode the hydrogen bomb, and this can only be developed by the explosion of the atom bomb, which is the equivalent of heat of the sun surface.

President Dr. Guinta reported the directors had voted to accept and sponsor the heart association program in addition to the clubs activities of the tuberculous program. It was also disclosed the recent visit of the mobile X-ray unit uncovered one active case of T.B. and immediate action has already been taken and treatment rendered to the party.

Lion Lester Larson was nominated and elected to the third vice presidency to fill vacancy created by the transfer of Lion Glenn Fee from the Warren Area.

Notice has been served on all Lions that September is to be 100% attendance month in honor of the four-der and Secretary General of Lion's International, Melvin Jones.

REDS USE UN FOR PROPAGANDA

It's been but a short time since Russia returned to the United Nations. Yet already delegates look fondly back upon the recent happy past, when the UN rolled smoothly forward without frustrating delay for the first time in its life.

That hopeful interlude ended the moment Jacob Malik, the Soviet representative, resumed his seat on the UN Security Council. Now the world again is watching a disheartening spectacle: Russia's customary effort to twist the UN into a vehicle for its own propaganda.

To be sure, this attempt can't succeed today in the degree it once did. Thanks to Russia's absence in the critical early phase of the Korean war, the UN is at its strongest. And it will stoutly resist any tactics conceived to reduce it once more to impotence.

Malik's opening maneuvers are pretty transparent. His bid to achieve ouster of Nationalist China and the seating of Red China instead is almost certainly a diversion. The Russians knew before Malik returned that only a small handful of nations are in a mood to discuss this issue so long as war rages in Korea.

Furthermore, Malik didn't even make the good fight for that objective. When the council overthrew his ruling that Nationalist China would no longer be recognized the Russian dubbed the procedure "illegal" but resorted to no further tricks. He continues to argue the point, but it's a sham battle.

Russia's real aim in returning is to drape herself in the robes of "peacemaker" in Korea. She wants to make her aggression in Korea palatable, if possible, to other Asiatics who may now strangely entertain some doubts as to her friendly intentions.

To accomplish this, Malik is falling back on that tiresome, threadbare totalitarian device of accusing Russia's opponents of the very things she herself is guilty of. So it's the United States, not the Soviet Union, which is the aggressor. More than that, says Malik, we have imperialistic designs on other Asiatic lands, including the Philippines (whose freedom we energetically promoted). Led by "cruel, brutal millionaires," the U. S. is out to enslave Korea and dominate the Far East.

So goes the fantasy. While thundering this upside-down version of the facts, Malik, without reddening in shame, dares to declare that Russia desires a "peaceful settlement" of the Korean question.

It should be abundantly clear to all that the Soviet Union has no thought of discussing peace in realistic terms. Nor can she imagine that the UN would accept HE's terms, which probably would call for accepting North Korean conquests, or at least for "elections" in Korea that would be rigged to produce a pro-Communist result.

What Russia seeks is to shift the blame for Korea to American shoulders, not alone to take the sting out of that aggression but possibly to justify further action there or elsewhere in Asia.

This being so, India's well-meaning effort to promote peace by first settling the China UN question looks painfully foolish. Who can believe that the admission of Red China would suddenly alter Russia's version of the Korean war?

It isn't the China issue which stands in the way of peace in Korea. It is Russia, the nation which began this war and is now trying to transfer the guilt to the United States. No country interested in penalizing rather than rewarding aggression will listen seriously to any peace proposal which would obscure that truth.

G. I.'S AREN'T PLAYING BEANBAG

Senator Wherry, Republican floor leader, thinks Congress may be breaking the law by sticking around Washington these days.

He notes that the Congressional Reorganization Act states that the House and Senate must adjourn by July 31 each year, except in case of war, national emergency or special provision by Congress to keep going.

We don't think it'll take a new law to give the aura of legality to the present proceedings on Capitol Hill. Admittedly Congress hasn't declared war. But very likely the boys who are fighting and dying in Korea will accept "national emergency" as a reasonable substitute of what they're going through.

The fire committee of council with the cooperation of the fire department started something last evening of worthwhile value to citizens generally when they staged a public demonstration of equipment and life saving apparatus. Such projects not only serve to help arouse more interest on the part of residents of the community in municipal affairs but provide an excellent means of acquainting them with the functions of various units of the government.

Every available man on hand working for the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company was ordered to jump on board several cars and fight a bad forest fire at Henrys Mill yesterday afternoon.

The city playgrounds are to have something entirely new in the way of picnics this year. Instead of going to Oakview Park, as in previous years, for the annual playground picnic, a big jam-boree is being planned at the Beatty playground. There will be many events, with prizes for each one, and a big balloon race will be the main event on the program.

Two Gold Star mothers, Mrs. Augusta Anderson, Water street and Mrs. Ida Wagner, of Barnes, left last night on the flyer for New York City, from where they will sail aboard the S. S. Roosevelt tomorrow morning for France.

Plans are being made this week for the first annual picnic of the Times-Mirror force and families to be held at Wildcat Park. An attraction of the early evening will be a baseball game between the composing and editorial rooms and the press and mailing rooms.

A fitting climax for the Boy Scouts at Camp Olmsted this week was the service yesterday at the Indian Reservation cemetery when the Scouts and Indians joined in honoring Chief Cornplanter.

War: Bulletins: Belligerent powers settled down to a punishing war of air power and the United Kingdom, the European continent and Africa felt and heard the crash of bombs, the thunder of anti-aircraft fire and the chattering of machinegun fire in increasing volume. Italy claimed further gains in her hard drive into British Somaliland.

Pennsylvania's National Guardsmen swung into the rapidly expanding First Army maneuvers, but a shortage of equipment handicapped the soldiers in "Carrying the fight to the enemy." The men are drilling with wooden guns and green-painted wooden models of 60 and 81 millimeter mortars.

Here And There

It is interesting to note now that the Prints Company is in the midst of an extensive and costly rebuilding operation, that it was 43 years ago last May 24, that the store experienced a fire that almost wiped out the store and other tenants in the building including the R. H. Burfoot studio. From the Evening Mirror of May 24, that year, we reprint in part the story telling of the blaze: At 1:25 o'clock this morning the fire department responded to extinguish a blaze in the building owned by A. A. Prints in Second avenue. It had already made considerable headway and flames were rolling from the windows in the rear of the second floor. The fire had also eaten its way into the third floor, and had it not been for the efficient and prompt work of the firemen, the entire building would soon have been in flames. It was necessary to pour a stream of water through a rear window on the second floor for a short time, but the most effective work was done by the chemical apparatus. Eight charges were used before the fire was under control. It was necessary for the firemen to remain on duty until nine o'clock as the joists under the floor were still smoldering. The water ran down through the steel ceiling into the Prints store and did considerable amount of damage. Hats and clothing were saturated and the store was flooded and smoked throughout. Only a short time ago Mr. Prints completed extensive alterations. The store is closed today awaiting adjustment of the loss which will doubtless be made promptly. The studio of R. H. Burfoot is a complete loss. Fire swept almost everything in the room, and the pictures that were not burned were smoked very badly and are unsalable. There was an extensive collection of water colors, one of which was valued at $400. Mr. Burfoot was out of town and is expected home from DuBois today. The fire originated underneath a closet in the stair casing in the studio. As he uses rag saturation with oil it is thought they ignited from spontaneous combustion. The third floor is leased by the A. O. U. W., Royal Arcanum, as well as the National Protective Legion, and the Danish Brotherhood. The damage to this floor was principally in the rear. The offices of Perry D. Clark and H. S. Perry were also badly smoked. Mr. Prints has the building sufficiently insured and will begin making repairs at once.

Morning Roundup: In connection with the announcement of the death of Eddie Kieper, at Tulsa, Okla., Wednesday night, an interesting item comes to our attention, recalling the days when Kieper staged several mound duels with Hugh Bedient, the Falconer player, who became a star with the Boston Red Sox, and has been a regular participant in most of the Old Timers games between Warren and Jamestown. For instance, there is June 10, 1907, when Warren High played a game at Falconer, and it was Bedient vs. Kieper. The Warren twirler had 15 strikeouts and Bedient 12. Warren won the game 4 to 2, and the writeup notes that "the only two local players Bedient failed to strike out were Kieper and Gelselbrecht." That year Warren High played seven games, winning all but one, Kane having canceled. Says the item - "Much credit is due Kieper, the local pitcher for this record. In seven games he had 101 strikeouts, or an average of 14 per game." ... That spaghetti dinner served by Wayne Painter, chairman of the committee, and members of the Fire Department, at the Central Station last evening, was so successful, all privileged to participate, are hoping the boys will decide to repeat the program "long about the time when sauer (Turn to Page Eleven)

More Than 50 Persons Attend Biennial Reunion Held at Sugar Grove Seminary

Sugar Grove, Aug. 10—The biennial reunion of the Sugar Grove Seminary was held Tuesday with a picnic lunch served in the home economics house and a meeting followed in the school auditorium.

Dr. Herbert Mix, Galeton, called the meeting to order and Miss Jessie Berlin, Jamestown, conducted the devotions, reading scripture and a poem, and offering prayer.

Mrs. Blanch Pickard, Jamestown, had charge of the memorial service for Dr. R. J. White, first president of the school, which is a part of each reunion. The group joined in singing "Abide With Me," with Miss Minnie Westrom at the piano, and George Jude, Jamestown, offered prayer. Mrs. Pickard called for short talks by former students and many offered tributes to Dr. White's fine qualities as a teacher and minister.

She also read the names of former students and teachers who had passed away since the last reunion. Among these were two teachers, Miss Fannie Amidon, Valley City, N. D., and Prof. Lee Dalley, Yankton, S. D. Other members were Claude Russell, Mrs. Harriett Morison, Mrs. Lola Vermilyea, Mrs. Jennie Muir, Mrs. Mattie Gaunt, Dr. George McCullough, Mrs. Julia Fiddler Green, Miss Margaret Hamilton, Mrs. Effie Akeley, Mrs. Jessie Benedict Blanchard, A. D. Clark, Mrs. Kate Barrett, Mrs. Blanch Mix Truesdell, Mrs. Clella Frank, Pearl Crowell Wilson and Howard Holden.

The secretary, Mrs. Mabel Dallas, read several letters and telegrams, among them a letter from Mrs. Woodland, a former teacher, whose husband served ten years as president. She is at present living at Liberty, N. Y.

Judge Jude, who attended the seminary at the opening of the school in September, 1884, told about helping Dr. White set the small maple trees which are now the large trees in front of the building. W. L. Nuttall, who graduated from the school in 1890, remembers when Dr. White helped with the manual labor on the building.

Other presidents of the school given tributes were Prof. Senneff and Prof. Woodland.

Officers elected were president, Mrs. Blanche Lonsberry Pickard; vice president, Mrs. Edna Bronson Duff; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Dallas. The meeting closed with singing, "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again," with Mrs. Duff leading.

More than 50 persons registered, among those from a distance being Mrs. Myrtle Fitch, Minneapolis, Minn.; Herman Lounsbury, Ossining, N. Y.; Miss Margaret Smith and Miss Flossie Broughton, Lakewood, N. Y.

Warren was well represented at the wrestling card staged at the Gerry rodeo show grounds last evening, when match-maker Don George presented a number of headline grapplers including: Gorgeous George, Suni War-Cloud, Jumpin' Savoldi, Farmer Marlin, Howard Cantonwine and a few others in a show that provided plenty of excitement and thrills for the spectators. ... It is gratifying to learn that steps have been taken by the fire committee of the borough council to get together with the Warren County Active Volunteer Firemen's Association to work out a mutual aid program that will be beneficial to all concerned, especially in case of emergency due to fire, as well as to cooperate with the Warren County Civilian Defense Committee as a security measure. This is a step that should have been taken long ago. Those back of the idea seem to be on the right track and everyone will join in wishing them all the success in the world.

BY JAMES MARLOW
Washington—(P)—There are two pools of men with military experience or training upon whom the armed forces can call in time of need: The National Guard and the Reserves.
A man joins the Guard for one, two or three-year periods. If he qualifies, he can rise in rank. And he retains that rank if called to active duty.
Further, he gets paid, according to his rank, for one drill a week and 15 days' training in camp every year. And he builds up points or credit, toward a government pension.
He can retire, with a pension due him, after 20 years in the Guard but he can't collect any of it till he reaches 60. Without the necessary credits, he can get no pension.
Now take the Reserve System. It's more complicated than the Guard (because it's different, the navy will be treated separately).
There are two kinds of reserves in the army and air force: The active and inactive.

Active reserves—This is divided into the organized and volunteer reserves.
1. Organized. Men in this train more or less regularly, in units or as individuals. They get the same benefits as guardsmen.
2. Volunteer reserve. Unlike men in the organized reserves, members of the volunteer reserves do little or no training. But they attend lectures or take home study courses.
Unlike the organized reserves who get paid for training, the volunteers get no pay. But they can get the other benefits: Promotion, retention of rank if called to active duty, and pensions if they do a minimum amount of drill. Training or home study work.
Inactive reserves—This is for officers only. Officers of the army or air force, when released from the armed forces after the last war, were offered the same commissions in the reserves.
(If they declined, then in event of another war they could be drafted, and put into the ranks as privates.)

Most accepted the reserve commission. Automatically, they went into the active reserves. If they didn't fulfill the requirements—drilling and training or studying and acquiring credits—they were put in the inactive reserves.
There they could remain but only for five years. At the end of that time, if they didn't say they wanted to remain in the active reserves, their commissions were dropped.
The navy, though, has only two classes of reserves: Organized and volunteer. The organized reserves train and get the four benefits: Guardsmen and the Army Airforce organized reserves get.
The Navy volunteer reserves don't have to do anything and, of course, get no benefits except one: They keep their commissions.
Why? The navy looks upon any one who was an officer as an officer permanently, to be called back as an officer if needed.

St. Paul's Pastor Is Honored On His 25th Anniversary

Rev. Nore Gustafson, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, who is this year celebrating the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the Lutheran ministry, was honored guest last night for a reception given in the church by his congregation.

This special affair, which was sponsored by the board of administration of the parish, was also a welcome home party for the Gustafson family on their return from vacation.

The program opened with a hymn followed by scripture reading and prayer by the Dr. H. A. Rindard. Two hymns were sung by the "Gentlemen of Note" quartet, consisting of Gordon Omdark, James Johnson, Tim Mulhaupt, and Dean Elair; a piano and organ duet was played by Ruth Bengtson and Mrs. Emil Jacobson; and a vocal solo was given by Doris Danielson.

After the program, heartwarming remarks were made by Rev. Hans Pearson, of Sheffield; Dr. Rindard; Rev. E. K. Rogers, of First Lutheran; and Rev. George Kroon, of Titusville Lutheran Church, who is president of the Warren District, Augustana Lutheran Synod.

Melbourne Karlson, vice president of the board, then presented Rev. and Mrs. Gustafson with a gift of money, and the pastor gave a response.

"Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was sung as the closing hymn, followed by the benediction by Rev. Kroon.

Refreshments were served in the basement.

that not much business can be done. At Lake success, council members planned to meet informally with Malik today to try to get him to stop his delaying operations. They held in reserve a threat to meet speech with speech. Mr. Truman was asked what he thinks of the tactics of Malik and the Russian delegation.

He said he wasn't interested in their tactics but was highly pleased with the performance of the United States and British delegation. He added that he doesn't like filibustering and the Russians are filibustering—no doubt about that.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Use cautiously by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's gives happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

YULE TREE GROWERS PLANNING MEETING

Harrisburg—The fifth summer meeting of the Pennsylvania Christmas Tree Growers Association will be held at the farm of John E. Bachert, near New Ringgold, Schuylkill county, on Saturday, August 26, according to word received by the State Department of Agriculture. The annual meeting of the commercial growers will be next January in Harrisburg during the 1951 Pennsylvania Farm Show.

The Bachert farm of 150 acres contains a Christmas tree planting of about 70 acres. American Red and Scotch pines that have been planted up to 26 years will be studied by members and guests, also spruces, firs, and pines of various ages which are being grown for cutting as Christmas trees. M. C. Stewart, Homer City, Pa., is president of the association.

Pennsylvania annually produces more nursery grown Christmas trees than any other state, the Department of Agriculture says.

Statement Is Issued On Lumber Needs

Washington—(AP)—The lumber requirements of all the armed services will not exceed 1,500,000,000 board feet through next June 30, the defense department said today.

The department issued a statement prepared by the army engineers, who buy all service lumber, to "spike unfounded rumors" that the defense department will stockpile 6,000,000,000 board feet this year.

The statement said that this rumor had caused sharp price rises on the lumber market.

Spokesmen for the lumber industry, the statement added, have advised army officials that there is "no existing shortage in the lumber market."

Stranded Trainload Of Explosives Is Captured By Yanks

Tokyo—American combat engineers in Korea were ordered to destroy a stranded trainload of explosives "at all costs."

But they decided the ammunition and gasoline was too valuable to destroy. So—

They seized a railway station in "no man's land," hooked an engine to the stranded train, and brought it out. They blew up rail crossings, switches, bridges and communication lines as they retreated without mishap.

The story was told in an official release.

For two days and two nights the fighting engineers had worked blowing up bridges at Kumchon. After burning the town and laying mine fields they had regrouped in their company area.

Then about midnight orders arrived by telephone to Battalion Commander, Lt. Col. William C. Holley of Corvallis, Ore.

Fifteen freight cars heavy with ammunition, gasoline and high explosives were stranded just outside the first cavalry sector. Four miles north of the train North Korean guerrillas had taken a town and might capture the valuable train and cargo.

The problem was to blow up the train before the guerrillas arrived. Twenty tired riflemen loaded demolition for blasting into jeeps and set out.

Holley accompanied the advance group which was commanded by Lt. John T. Kennedy, El Monte, Calif. The main body of engineers was to follow in trucks mounted with 50 calibre machineguns.

Holley told how his 20 man daredevil squad raced through Poksang and reached Kumi. There they seized the rail station and formed a perimeter around it.

Holley found a telephone and called Poksang for an engine to pull the train back to safe territory. The engineers marked time from 2 until 4 a. m. The engine chugged in before the guerrillas.

Hal Boyle's Comment

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two columns comparing the fighting habits of American and North Korean soldiers.)

By HAL BOYLE
With U. S. Troops in Korea—
After being pushed back badly for five weeks, GI Jo has decided that what he calls "the Gooks" are first-rate fighting men. American soldiers first held the North Korean troops in complete contempt as a jokester army. They regarded them as a rabble of barbarians in arms, who would crumble and run at the first shock of real battle.

"We were told that the Reds would probably give up and start withdrawing the moment they saw Americans, drawn up to oppose them on the front," said one young officer. "And that is how we felt when we first went up against them. We thought they would retreat at the mere sight of our uniforms."

Never has a military force in history been more rudely disillusioned. The two below-strength infantry companies which first made a contact with the Reds by artillery fire on July 5 were left dazed and unbelieving by the resulting reaction.

They had expected to be heavily outnumbered. What they hadn't expected was to be outnumbered by a trained group of fighters with more tanks, anti-tank guns and automatic weapons than the Americans had.

They were almost as surprised as a U. S. cavalry regiment would have been in the last century if it had gone to quell an Indian uprising and found the Redskins had the firepower of a modern Panzer division.

The situation continues, and the GI hasn't yet got over it. He still hasn't adjusted to the fact that "the Gooks" are ready, willing and able to fight two types of warfare—guerrilla warfare from the hills and modern scientific armored warfare in the valleys.

The American soldier today is confused and baffled by the fact that so far in Korea he hasn't been able to meet the Reds on equal terms. Only the great U. S. edge in the air kept the Korea venture from becoming a disaster.

Grateful as he is for air support, the American ground soldier wants his firepower on the ground, too. He is the son of a mechanized civilization. He is rather resentful that his country wasn't geared to give him tools in quantity and quality to overwhelm "these Gook-suit hillbillies."

The GI has fought bravely and well, saving American honor with his blood, in a war he didn't start against a people who did. He also has had the disadvantage of fighting in a land whose customs, terrain and language are totally unfamiliar to him. A soil on which the enemy is at home.

He feels himself a stranger in a war he doesn't know much about. And it broke so fast the American army hasn't had time to indoctrinate fresh troops. It has only been able to give him what arms it could and send him into the line.

A bearded, dust-covered captain I met after the withdrawal behind the Nakdong river line said:

"I still can't realize I'm here. If anyone had told me 60 days ago that I would be fighting in Korea, I wouldn't have believed he was anything but crazy."

Another correspondent told me of hearing a doughboy in a front-line explain to his puzzled buddy:

"Sure I know why we are here.

Many Violations Of Weight and Speed Laws On Highways

Harrisburg—During the first five months of 1950, State Police made over 8,000 more arrests for violations of the Vehicle Code than were made in the same period last year, according to a report from

We got to fight communism wherever it breaks out and tries to take place by force." And daily the American soldier is toughening to his mission. He is tired of retreating. He is angry.

State Police Headquarters.

From January to May, inclusive, this year State Police arrested 53,522 persons for such violations, while 44,942 were apprehended in those months in 1949.

"It is apparent that many drivers deliberately break the law, endangering others on the highway," Col. C. M. Wilhelm, State Police Commissioner said. "This is indicated not only by the increase in the total number of arrests, but also by the increase in arrests in certain categories such as exceeding weight restrictions and exceeding speed limitations. No effort will be spared to protect the large number of careful motorists from the dangers needlessly brought to the highways by the irresponsible few."

Leading the list in the first five months of 1950, there were 14,555 persons arrested for exceeding speed limitations. This is an increase of 3,613 over the same period last year when 10,942 speeders were apprehended. Exceeding weight restrictions accounted for 12,913 arrests from January to May 1950, inclusive, as compared with 7,096 during that period in 1949. Third highest in the list were 5,365 arrests for failure to observe stop signs through May 31 of this year, while 5,275 stop sign violators were arrested during the first five months of 1949.

In the month of May, 1950, there were 15,303 arrests for violations of the Vehicle Code, as compared with 9,267 in May, 1949. This is an increase of more than 4,000 arrests. Of these arrests, 4,091 were for exceeding speed limitations, as compared with 2,490 such violations in 1949. Exceeding weight restrictions accounted for 2,882 apprehensions during May of this year. Arrests for stop sign violations numbered 1,378 in May of 1950, as against 1,107 for that month in 1949.

The Sirono Indians of Bolivia cannot count above three and have no words denoting time beyond "yesterday" and "tomorrow."

Absentee Voting By The Servicemen In Korea Written Off

Harrisburg, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Absentee voting for Pennsylvania servicemen in the Korean war was written off today as hopeless for the 1950 general election.

But it will likely be a different story for the 1951 elections.

Gene D. Smith, commonwealth secretary, said it's too late to start the ball rolling to give members of the Armed Forces absentee ballots for the important Nov. 7 general election.

Restoration of the 1941 soldier law, repealed by the 1947 legislature would mean calling a special session of the general assembly.

In addition to that monumental task, Smith said the mechanics of preparing the necessary material such as affidavit and ballot forms would take more than the three months' time still left for the general election.

The Pennsylvania Armed Forces absentee ballot law proved highly successful in World War Two. In the 1944 presidential year, more than 657,000 servicemen cast ballots from all over the world.

"We are convinced that we had the best soldier vote law in the United States during World War Two," commented Smith.

The commonwealth secretary, under whose supervision the State Elections Bureau falls, said new soldier vote legislation is already being drafted for the 1951 general assembly.

He said it will likely be patterned after the World War Two law. That provided for ballot applications, countersigned by a serviceman's commanding officer, to be received by county election boards.

The board then mailed out an official ballot which has to be returned within a week after a primary election and 10 days after a general election. Servicemen usually were given more than a month to send in their ballots.

The draft and federal induction of units of the Pennsylvania National Guard, including the 10,000 officers and men of the 28th Infantry Division, point up the importance of the servicemen's vote in a close election.

The 1949 fish catch in New England was valued at $60,000,000.

Safety Check For Rubber Boats Urged

Harrisburg—Rubber boats and rafts of the army surplus type should be checked often to detect any deterioration which may cause them to spring a leak and collapse, and thus contribute directly to the danger of drowning, the Department of Forests and Waters warned today.

"Many types of rubber boats and rafts in use on Pennsylvania's streams and lakes during the vacation season were manufactured for the Army or Navy during the war to be used as emergency craft only," one official in the Department pointed out.

When exposed to the wear and tear of the elements, such craft often develop hairline-breaks that can cause such craft to deflate suddenly and spill the occupants into the water, according to Department officials.

These smaller craft are popular with children, and owners of such boats and rafts are warned that unless the children are capable

MENU SUGGESTIONS

THE high cost of meat makes homemakers seek equally good but less costly protein in other foods. Eggs get top rating for their protein. Dried beans contain protein, too, even though it is not a complete protein like that in eggs. But when combined with eggs, beans boost the nutrition at very little cost.

Try this one-dish luncheon or supper:

Frijoles with Eggs (4 servings)

Two tablespoons fat, 1/2 cup finely diced onion, 1 small clove garlic, minced, 1 1/2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, No. 2 can kidney beans, 1 1/2 cups cooked corn, or 12-ounce can whole kernel corn, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 3/4 teaspoon curry powder, 1 bouillon cube, 1 large green pepper, 4 eggs.

Melt fat over moderate heat in frying pan. Add onion and garlic and cook about 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add kitchen bouquet and stir in. Add kidney beans and corn.

Sprinkle with salt, pepper and curry powder. Add bouillon cubes. Heat thoroughly, making sure bouillon cube is dissolved. Pour into individual baking dishes.

Cut green pepper into four 1/2-inch slices. Arrange green pepper slices to form cup in center of each casserole. Break an egg carefully into each green pepper ring.

Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until egg white is set about 25 minutes. Serve immediately.

Here's a good sandwich spread that packs a nutrition wallop at low cost:

Pork and Bean Sandwich Spread One pound can pork and beans, 3 tablespoons sweet relish, 2 tablespoons salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Mash the beans. Add relish and salad dressing; mix thoroughly. Spread between slices of toast or bread. Makes 8 sandwiches.

President Asks Congress To Pass Four Measures Aimed To Regulate Commies

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington—(AP)—President Truman has asked congress to pass four laws aimed at Communists: Make it easier for the government to punish spies, keep a check on them, prevent sabotage, and watch aliens who should be deported.

Except for the last point, there's a bill in congress which would carry out Mr. Truman's ideas. This bill—offered by Rep. Bryson (D-SC)—was passed by the house in March. The senate hasn't acted on it yet. Still another house-passed measure parallels the president's views on unwanted aliens but goes beyond his recommendations.

Mr. Truman expressed his ideas in a message to congress yesterday.

Here are his four points:
1. Make it easier to punish spies in peacetime. Under present law no one can be brought to trial for spying in peacetime unless the government charges him within three years of the crime.

This three-year limit on government's power to charge a peacetime spy is called the statute of limitations. Yesterday Mr. Truman asked congress to extend this statute of limitations.

Well-Trained, Alert Fighting Men Needed

Young man! Do you appreciate your U. S. citizenship? Millions of foreigners would give up everything they own to come to America and begin again. But U. S. citizenship is priceless—it cannot be purchased. Its great value lies in the freedoms and privileges too numerous to mention. As an American, you may even take them for granted. Today, our freedoms and privileges are in danger. Well-trained, alert fighting men are needed to hold off that danger. If you are within military age, here is your opportunity to demonstrate your appreciation of your citizenship.

Join the U. S. Army now. In the critical days that lie ahead, the United States will be in great need of well-trained, alert fighting men. The more training you get, the better you and your country will be.

Enlist now—get more training—show your patriotism. U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Warren, Penna.

He didn't say for how long. But the house-passed bill would raise the limit from three years after the crime to 10. And the penalty is 10 to 20 years in jail.

2. Keep a better check on spies. Under present law any American in this country doing work for a foreign government of a political nature must register as an agent of that government.

In his message Mr. Truman asked for a law forcing anyone—that would mean foreigners as well as Americans—who has been trained or told to spy on this country to report that fact by registering.

3. Prevent sabotage. Under present laws the president has pretty wide powers to issue orders protecting places involved in national defense. Mr. Truman asked congress to give him even wider powers.

He didn't say exactly what he had in mind. But the house-passed bill spells out presidential power to issue security orders about planes, airports, waterfronts, laboratories.

(Congressmen who approved this bill explain it would take the place of a law which was passed during the war but died in 1943.)

4. To watch aliens who should be deported

Crop Growth Aided By Frequent Rains

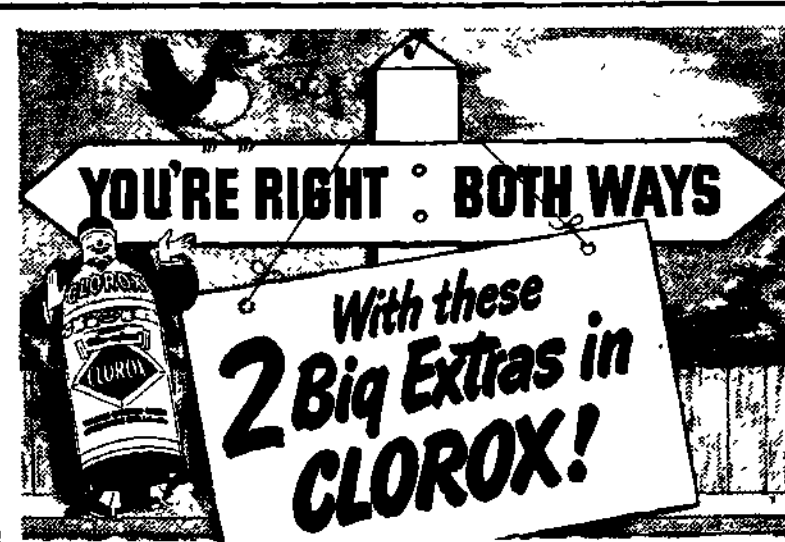

Harrisburg—(AP)—Crop growth has been aided by recent scattered showers, the state agriculture department reports.

In its weekly summation, the department said yesterday that corn is continuing growth but needs warmer weather.

Late potatoes were reported making "excellent" growth, although blight is reported in some localities.

Recent rains have helped late plantings of tobacco while the delayed harvest of wheat is continuing as weather permits. Second cuttings of hay are generally good, except in southeastern localities.

Pastures are supplying much feed for cattle, the department said, adding that the rains in the southeast have rejuvenated burned grasses.

"Tried My Best But It Was Not Good Enough" Says Disappointed Shirley May

By Shirley May France (Copyright, 1950, by NEA Service, Inc.)

Dover, England—(NEA)—Well, I lost. I tried to become the youngest person in history to swim across the English Channel and failed by five miles.

I was in the water more than 13 hours until my coach, Harry Boudakian, made me quit. I guess maybe I was exhausted, but when I saw him watching me and shaking his head I knew what he had in mind.

I tried everything possible to show him that I wasn't as tired as I looked. But he knows best and when he refused to answer when I asked how far I had to go, I knew it was all over.

I looked at Bill Irons, my rower and asked him if I would make the tide that would bring me on to the English shore. Bill shook his head. After that I could barely lift my arms. My legs felt like lead. That was the end.

I don't remember anything after that until I found myself on the big pilot boat. I guess I was hysterical. The big dream of my life—life greatest ambition any swimmer could ever have—was gone. I tried my best and I only hope my friends will believe this.

Even though I didn't make it, I had a good feeling when I heard what a wonderful swim Florence Chadwick made. It made me proud of America, and I certainly want to congratulate her. I'm very happy that it was an American girl who broke the record, and that the record is still American property. She's truly a very great swimmer.

I have no excuses. The day was fine, the water was warmer than I have ever seen it and there was very little swell. I was sick and nauseated in the early stages of the swim and had to stop three times. I just couldn't keep any food down, although my coach tried cocoa and my glucose formula. Finally a couple of caramel candies did the trick and from then on my stomach did not bother me.

Just before I reached the ten-hour mark, I began to gasp for breath. The coach leaned way out of the rowboat to grab me but I was only getting my second wind.

and laughed at him. When I came to, on the pilot boat, I pleaded with the coach to please tell me what happened to me. I was trained well—for even a longer swim. He said, "Shirley, you were just plain exhausted." I guess that was it. I tried my best but it wasn't good enough.

Warren Merchants, Tiona Score One-Point Sunset League Wins

Warren Merchants protected their slim lead in the second half of the Sunset League campaign with a close 4-3 win over Suppa Studebakers, but they had to come from behind to do it.

In another close Sunset scrap, Tiona edged the Sons of Italy, 2-1.

The Metes-Suppa scrap was played on the State Hospital diamond, and had to be called in the sixth because of darkness.

Dick Christensen was the winning roundsman. He fanned four men, walked two and yielded six hits. Applanap started on the hill for Suppas, but gave way to Frank. They allowed only four hits between them, but the Metes made them count.

Suppas counted a single run on the first inning in a single by Trask and a triple by Ben Randall. The Youngsville squad added two more in the third to take a 3-0 lead. North Haight singled, and Neil Trask followed it up with a round-tripper.

Applanap had a no-hitter on the fire until the fifth when the Merchants cut loose to score four runs on a double by Dave Lopez, a single by Bill Brown, a triple by Dick Reed, a long fly by Don Cheres and a walk for Tom Juhano and a single by Monk Murphy.

Score by innings:

Suppas	102	00	—	3	6	3
Merchants	00	04	—	4	4	0

Umpires—Massa, Wolfe.

The Tiona-Sons of Italy game was played at Jackson field, and featured a mound duel between Keith Vesling for Tiona and Paul Smith for the Sons of Italy.

Vesling had seven strikeouts, allowed one walk and gave up four hits. Smith fanned five men, walked three, and was touched for six safeties.

Tiona got its all-important two runs in the fourth frame. Logan led on with a single. Wholeben fanned, Toth was safe on an error, Franch singled to right to plate Logan. Lucia then threw wild to second allowing Toth to score.

Sons of Italy counted their lone tally in the fifth when Lucia ciouted a double, the only extra-base blow of the game, and Irvine hit a liner through the box to score Lucia.

Bradsh led Tiona at the plate with two hits in three trips, while Irvine had two for two for the losers.

Linescore:

Tiona	00	200	—	2	6	0
Sons of Italy	000	010	—	1	4	2

Umpires—Pearce, D. Vesling.

Hot Stove Intermediates Open Championship Tilts Tomorrow

Warren Business College and the Youngsville Merchants will square off tomorrow night in the first game of a best out of three series to decide the championship of the Hot Stove Intermediate League.

The game will be played on Lacy School field, home lot for Warren Business College, starting at 6 o'clock.

Second game in the series is slated for Monday, August 14, at 6 o'clock at the Youngsville field.

The third game, if needed, will be played on Jackson field Thursday night, August 17.

Winner of the Intermediate League championship will represent the Warren Hot Stove League in a State Hot Stove League Tournament to be held August 24 and 25 at Tarentum.

The runner-up will represent Warren in a five-game clash with Jamestown Intermediates on "Warren Night", August 22, at Jamestown Municipal Stadium.

Warren Business School copped the championship of the Hot Stove Intermediate's Eastern Division with a record of 12 wins and one setback. Youngsville is the leader of the Western Division with a perfect record in 11 starts.

Arrangements for the playoff series were made at a meeting of Hot Stove officers and leaders in Trinity Memorial parish house last night.

A similar playoff series also will be drawn up for the Midget League.

Hot Stove leaders also authorized scheduling of several inter-district clashes at which time official team photos will be taken. These games will be announced later, and all managers were asked to have a full turnout of players in uniform.

Two Hottest National Clubs To Clash Tonight In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Aug. 10—(P)—Come sundown tonight, the two hottest clubs in the National League—the Philadelphia Phils and the New York Giants—meet in the first of a four-game series that could make or break either.

A clean sweep of the series by Eddie Sawyer's Whiz Kids would be a further indication—if any is needed—the first place Phils are pennant bound.

By the same token, four straight wins by Leo Durocher's darlings would put a serious crimp in the Phillies' flag hopes and could boost the Giants to within shouting distance of the league lead.

The Giants now nine games in back of the Phils in fifth place, have won 17 of their last 19 games.

The Phils have racked up 14 victories in their last 18 starts including three out of five against the St. Louis Cards and two straight against the Brooklyn Dodgers—both pennant contenders.

Those two wins over Brooklyn—the sort of performance a Philadelphia team rarely was able to match in the past—demonstrated the Phils of 1950 vintage don't care who they dump. Manager Sawyer has managed to instill in his youngsters the sort of confidence a pennant winner must have.

And the way Leo Durocher has turned his Giants—"My kind of ball club"—into a winning combination after a poor start this season is the talk of the league.

In short, the Phils-Giants series is bursting with possibilities.

Style Shop Posts A 16 to 1 League Win

Style Shop softballers chalked up a 16-1 triumph over Hanna Motor Sales in an Industrial League battle on the West Side field last night.

Gene Fredricks, centerfielder for the Stylists, led the victory attack with three hits in four chances at the plate, including two long home runs, one with the bases loaded.

Bob Check was the winning pitcher.

PONY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

The Hornell Dodgers won their eighth straight game last night and widened their PONY league lead to seven games.

The Dodgers defeated the Batavia Clippers 7 to 2 behind the five-hit pitching of Ed Moore. Chico Sierra hit his 17th homer of the year for Hornell. Chuck Neal also homered.

The second place, Olean Oilers lost their fifth straight, bowing to Bradford 9 to 7. Jim Boland had a three-hitter going into the sixth inning for the Oilers and was leading 7 to 1 when the roof fell in. Bradford sent 11 men to the plate in that inning and scored seven times.

Manager Bob Shawkey of the Jamestown Falcons complained of a pitching shortage and "several sore arms" before last night's game with Hamilton. Then he proceeded to let hurler Dick Everett go all the way and absorb a 15 to 1 beating, including an eight-run fourth.

Wellsville lost to Lockport 6 to 3 despite good pitching by Jerry Lane. The winning Reds scored four unearned runs in the first inning. Billy Nee, last of three Lockport pitchers, got credit for the victory.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY GAILE TALBOT

New York, Aug. 10—(P)—Isn't it about time someone spoke sharply to those Giants and told them there's enough trouble sorting out the leaders in the National League without another club trying to crowd into the act?

President Ford Frick has just told the players in his loop that a hot four-team scrap is in prospect down to the wire and that they should be careful of their language to umpires the rest of the way lest they get tossed out of a game and hurt their teammates' chances.

Not that he said four teams—nor five or six. There obviously isn't room up there for the Giants and, besides, they must be playing over their heads. Somebody ought to tell Leo Durocher before the thing gets serious.

Perhaps the immediate schedule will take care of the problem. If it doesn't, prepare to say hello to another "miracle" team.

Having finished at Boston, the effervescent Polo Grounders now face 17 games within 11 days

Leading Phillies—eight of them against the Phils. They will have only one day of rest during this rugged period and will have to dig up pitchers for a brace of doubleheaders.

That should do it. After their terrific pace of the past three weeks Durocher's darlings are overdue for a slump. Look what happened to the Cincinnati Reds after their big spurt earlier in the season. Even though they will be playing eight of these 12 games at their home grounds, the Giants

The RANGE DOCTOR

by OSCAR J. FRIEND

Chapter 2

"I ONLY needed a little room on one side for an office. The press, type, and paper stock's all in the back. A newspaper in the same building won't hurt your dignity any, will it?"

"Certainly not, but—"

"Then shut up and look around to see if you have any suggestions. We'll have your shingle right over the door and paint your name on the window glass in bigger letters than the Gila News sign."

Logan was a bit overwhelmed with emotion. "The shingle will be enough, Uncle Tom. A doctor doesn't advertise."

Griggsby snorted. "Don't get too ethical."

"But you wrote me I'd be the only physician in town."

"With a medical diploma," the editor added. "That doesn't take into account the druggist and the veterinary. They still do all the practicing hereabouts. Here's a copy of yesterday's paper on my desk. How do you like it? I gave you a pretty good play-up on the front page."

"You leave me speechless, Uncle Tom."

"Nonsense. Where's your doctoring equipment?"

"My satchel and books are packed in that tan suitcase. I'll have to order stuff as I go along."

"Fine. Got a lot of shiny tools in it, I hope."

"You paid for it. I got the best," Logan answered simply.

"I want you to have the best. Hawkins promised me some picture moulding and glass to frame your diploma. You look sort of thin and pale, Bob. You've studied too hard. Want to eat something? Or can you rest a while until I finish this partition?"

"We will finish the partition," said Logan, arising and peeling off his coat.

Busy with his saw, Logan did not hear strange footsteps above his din until the editor uttered an exclamation.

"Mollie Barton! You imp of Satan!"

A young woman was behind the editor, gripping the hammer head which she had caught in its back swing. Lithe, tanned smoothly, with dancing brown eyes, low-crowned sombrero dangling by its lath strings behind her wavy brown hair—a golden girl in cowboy rigging. Beyond her stood a tall, iron-gray man with a white cowboy moustache.

Griggsby kissed the girl affectionately. "Hello, Henry," he greeted the ranchman. "Didn't know you folks were in town."

He saw dancing imps in Mollie's eyes.

"Mollie needed some special groceries for tomorrow. We're leavin' out now. Just dropped by to see if the doctor'd come."

"You bet he did, Bob!"

In his shirt-sleeves, flushed and perspiring, Logan advanced with his carpenter tool gripped in his hand. Griggsby put a proud hand on his shoulder.

"Henry, this is Bob Logan," he introduced. "Son, this is Henry Barton of the Circle Bar and the squarest shooting old buzzard that ever cinched a saddle."

Quickly tumbling his saw out of the way, Logan gripped hands with the mahogany-faced plainsman.

"Don't mind what Tom says," drawled Barton as his shrewd eyes appraised the young physician. "He talks a lot, editorial instinct, I reckon. But he has sorta bragged on you to me once or twice. Glad to meet you, son."

"And this," went on Griggsby, putting his arm about the girl's waist and drawing her yielding form closer, "is Mollie. She and her sister Betty are the two prettiest girls in the whole Panhandle."

From the rancher Logan turned to be plunged into confusion by the dancing imps in the depths of Mollie Barton's wide brown eyes. He shifted his saw to his right hand and then quickly back again as she offered her own. He bowed wordlessly over her slim, tanned fingers.

"Welcome to the Horseshoe range, Dr. Logan," she said in sweet voice which stirred his pulses in spite of the faint undercurrent of laughter. "Do you always carry an emblem of your profession?"

He straightened up, glancing at his saw. "Er—no. Not always, Miss Barton."

In spite of his confusion his eyes drank in every detail of her fresh beauty. Murmuring an apology, he shifted his saw abruptly once more.

"Why don't you put it down?" Mollie suggested. "Are you in a hurry to get back to work?"

"No, no, not at all. I was just helping Uncle Tom with my office. He thinks of everything."

"Isn't he a dear?" she agreed as the two older men moved out of hearing. "I see he's stayed sober, too."

Logan's face became anxious. On the subject of Tom Griggsby he forgot his embarrassment. "He wrote me he'd just about quit."

"I'm sorry. He isn't very bad. Mostly on Saturday when he makes the rounds gathering news of the range for the paper."

"That's his greatest fault—if he has a fault. He's his own worst enemy."

"Let's go," Barton said. "Glad to have met you, son. Reckon you'll be out at the usual time tomorrow, Tom."

Mollie kissed the editor's cheek as she pulled on her gauntlets. "Good-bye, Doctor Bob. Remember we'll have dinner promptly at noon."

"I remember," puzzled Logan. "Shucks!" Griggsby said. "I was so excited I forgot to tell Bob we're invited out to Sunday dinner—every Sunday. We'll be there honey. Don't forget my chicken gravy."

She nodded brightly and looked expectantly at Logan.

"Thank you, Miss Barton," he said. "We'll try to be punctual."

Logan watched from the doorway and saw her slyly quirt her father's mount across the rump, causing the brute to jump before the rancher was seated in his saddle. As they cantered away the doctor turned and hurled the offending saw through the opening of the partition.

"Hey! What's the matter?" the startled editor yelled.

How the devil was a man to appear at his professional best in shirt-sleeves and with a carpenter's tool getting tangled up in every thing?

Explanation Of Pay and Allowances Men In Armed Services May Be Paid

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington—(AP)—This is an explanation of the pay and allowances men in the armed services get.

The Army will be used as an example. Comparable grades in the other branches get the same.

Above the grade of private, there's no flat pay scale. The pay then ranges from a minimum to a maximum, depending on length of service.

There are three groups in the Army:

1. The non-commissioned men, from recruit—the draftee or the private first class, $147; corporal, $117.60 to $191; sergeant, $139.65 to $227; sergeant first class $169.05 to $249; master sergeant, $198.45 to $294.

Warrant officers' pay—

Warrant officer, grade one, $210.98 to $298.25; grade two, $254.63 to $349.20; grade three, $291 to $382.85; grade four, $320.19 to $465.60.

Commissioned officers' pay—

Second lieutenant, $213.75 to $313.50; first lieutenant, $249.58 to $349.12; captain, $313.50 to $441.75; major, $384.75 to $513; lieutenant colonel, $456 to $584.25; colonel, $570 to $698.25; brigadier general, $769.50 to $826.50; major general, lieutenant general, and general, $926.25 to $954.75.

Now take allowances:

Any man below the rank of corporal at this time is considered to have no dependents. In almost all cases the government feeds, clothes and houses him. But, if lodging isn't provided for him, he gets $45 to pay for his housing. The same is true for any corporal with less than seven years' service. But it's different for a corporal with seven or more years' service and for the three classes of sergeants.

If they're single but the government doesn't provide their living quarters, they get $45 to pay for their own.

If they're married and the government doesn't provide living quarters for them and their families, then they get $67.50 to pay for living quarters for their family.

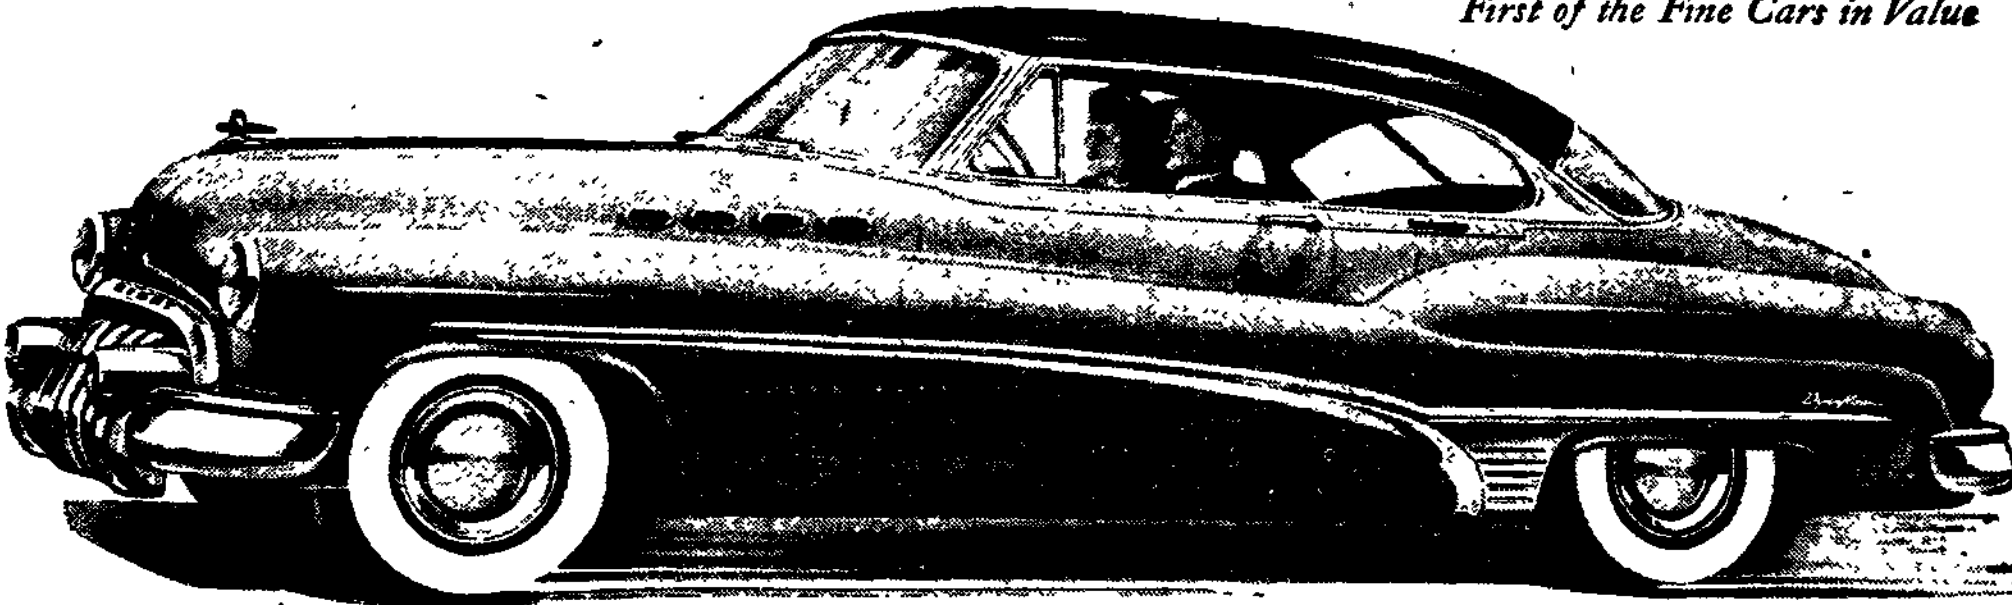

The warrant officers and commissioned officers of all ranks get a flat government allowance of $21 a month for food, if single, and $42 if married.

All warrant and commissioned officers get a government allowance for lodgings, whether married or single. The amount varies by rank.

A full general gets an additional $5,000 a year for his expenses.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

YOU can see this man has made his mark in life, and while his heart's still young.

You can tell he likes action for his money—that he knows a fine car needn't be the most expensive to give the greatest value.

Yes, such are the things you know of any man, when you note that his car is a ROADMASTER.

Follow him on his spirited way as he pilots this lively motorcar through traffic. Even the lightweights are no match for this road-steady husky—not with the 152-horsepower straight-eight Fireball engine that purrs beneath its bonnet.

Maneuver beside him at the next stop light. Then just try to get away as smoothly, swiftly and silently as Dynaflo Drive gets his ROADMASTER going—and keeps it rolling without shifting, even automatically.

But don't waste time merely envying the man in this great car! Why not emulate him?

With all its outside room, interior luxury and exterior grace—with all its front-rank prestige, rare performance and matchless ride—a ROADMASTER can be yours for less than some smaller cars cost.

In fact, even if you had a fortune to spend, you couldn't make a more fortunate buy in the fine-car field.

So we suggest you try a few minutes behind the wheel. We're confident they will convince you that ROADMASTER has everything you could ever ask for in any motorcar—although your Buick dealer asks a good bit less for ROADMASTER than you might pay for other top-line cars.

gheny River drainage, and adjacent, it should not prove difficult to observe that cutting in the past has far exceeded the growth. This situation is still far too common in most parts of the nation. A day's drive through the wooded hills of northwestern Pennsylvania might convince many people that since the hills are fully covered with a dense growth of trees there is no forest problem locally. It would be well for such people to tramp over some of these wooded hills in search of quality sawlogs. They would find that for the most part, even with fire kept out completely there will be a discouragingly long wait before most of these stands will furnish the type of fine sawlogs demanded by industry.

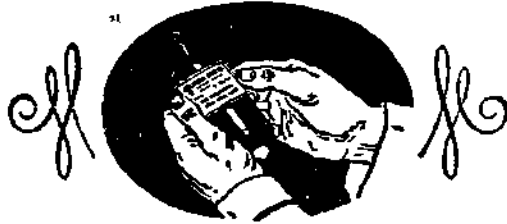

If we compare the total cubic-foot growth of all timber, five inches and up in the United States, with total drain the figures look encouraging because total growth is not much below the total drain. But in order to see what kind of trees are contributing to this total growth it would prove enlightening to step back into the woods in a number of different spots throughout the nation. One would find that much of this cubic foot growth was contained in low-grade trees, particularly inferior hardwood species, much of which may never be fit for quality timber.

Ninety per cent of the forest fires that plague the nation's timber lands are man-caused and preventable. One hundred per cent of the cutting is man-caused but the general public is apathetic regarding how this cutting is done. The "woods' butcher" is still a respected citizen even if it takes generations to repair the damage he does in reaping a quick profit.

"Cape" Alava, in the state of Washington, is the most westerly point in the United States.
